INTRODUCTION TO INDEX TO THE JEWISH CHRONICLE - 1903

"Knowledge is of two kinds. We know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find information upon it"

Ben Johnson

In this, the index to the 1903 Jewish Chronicle, I have made a conscious effort to raise the level of indexing. The ideal is to index every topic - major, minor and passing, and every person mentioned no matter how trivially. If this was to be done, each issue would need about two thousand index entries, and the size of the finished product would quadruple, so too would the time taken for compilation and the costs incurred. Therefore, while a "complete" index (if such a thing is technically possible) is desirable, practicalities dictate that the Jewish Chronicle shall be indexed selectively.

The responsibility for selection of index entries is that of the indexer, who has managed to lay down a few rules to help in selection - particularly over whether to index persons or not.

1. If there is a list of officers elected/appointed to an organisation, only the principle officers are given an index entry, i.e. Presidents, Vice Presidents, Chairmen(women), Treasurers and Secretaries.

2. Persons speaking at meetings are included if their contribution is reasonably substantial - not just "Hear, hear".

3. If a topic is discussed at a meeting it is given index entries if there is a report or summary which is more than about 10 lines.

4. A few organisations are brought together, e.g. Working Men' Clubs, Jewish Lads' Brigade, Synagogues, Friendly Societies. This is simply because, in the humble opinion of the indexer the entity could form a useful topic of research as a whole. They are, of course, also indexed under the component parts, thus MANCHESTER BATTALION JEWISH LADS' BRIGADE will also be indexed as JEWISH LADS' BRIGADE MANCHESTER BATTALION.

Headings which are very similar are studiously avoided and a standard heading used where possible. In this way a thesaurus is being built up which could have applications other than for indexing the Jewish Chronicle.

Indexers are often castigated for "thinking in inversions" - perhaps they do, but this indexer prefers not to have half the index beginning with the letter "J", preferring "Literature, Jewish" to having to plough through pages and pages of text to find a few isolated entries. Therefore, guilty, but unrepentant!
